

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Recently your child was introduced to the Homework Help Website, an exciting initiative provided by the Ministry of Education through the Independent Learning Centre (ILC). This resource is available to all students in grades 7 to 10.

The Homework Help Website provides:

- Free one-on-one live Math Tutoring (Sunday to Thursday, 5:30 pm – 9:30 pm)
- Help from tutors who are certified Ontario Mathematics teachers
- An interactive whiteboard where your child can ask math questions
- “Virtual lockers” in which students store Tutor sessions
- Resources available 24/7
- Glossary of Mathematical terms and concepts.
- Searchable database of 250 best tutor sessions.
- Full 30 minute lessons in the “Listen and Learn” section.
- Interactive tutorials and more

I donot understand midpoints and median triangles may I receive some help?

STU3: Hello
TUTOR1: Hello
TUTOR1: Midpoint — the point that divides a line segment into two equal parts
STU3: OK
TUTOR1: Median — the line segment joins a vertex of a triangle to the midpoint of the opposite side
TUTOR1: I will draw a picture on the whiteboard for you
TUTOR1: So notice the line from the letter A
STU3: Yes. Both sides are equal?

Introduction Fractions

Introduction Part 1 Part 2 Part 3 Conclusion

Fractions are all around us.

In sports we have half time shows, when we use money we have quarters, when telling time we say “half an hour” or “it’s a quarter past”, there are half, quarter, and eighth notes in music.

Fractions are parts of things, but before you can work with them, there are a few special things you need to know.
